NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW HEALTH INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW THIS NOTICE CAREFULLY.

Your health record contains personal information about you and your health. This information about you that may identify you and that relates to your past, present, or future physical or mental health or condition and related health care services is referred to as “protected health information.” This Notice of Privacy Practices” describes how I may use and disclose your protected health information in accordance with applicable law and the APA Code of Ethics. It also describes your rights regarding how you may gain access to and control your protected health information.

As part of your protected health information, I keep some specific information in what are called “psychotherapy notes.” These notes are kept separate from your health record and are given much higher privacy protection. They contain my impressions about you and details of the psychotherapy conversation I consider to be inappropriate for the health record. They contain information pertinent only to my future work with you. They are not available for your review, nor to insurance and managed care companies.

I am required by law to maintain the privacy of protected health information and to provide you with notice of my legal duties and privacy practices with respect to protected health information. I am required to abide by the terms of this Notice of Privacy Practices. I reserve the right to change the terms of this Notice of Privacy Practices at any time. Any new Notice of Privacy Practices will be effective for all protected health information that we maintain at that time. I will provide you will a copy of the reviewed Notice of Privacy Practices by posting a copy in our office, sending a copy to you in the mail upon request, or providing one to you at your next appointment.

How I May Use and Disclose Health Information about You

For Treatment: Your protected health information may be used and disclosed by those who are involved in your care for the purpose of providing, coordinating, or managing your health care treatment and related services. This includes consultation with clinical supervisors or other treatment team members.

For Payment: I may use and disclose protected health information so that I can receive payment for the treatment services provided to you. This will only be done with your authorization. Examples of payment-related activities are: making a determination of eligibility or coverage for insurance benefits, processing claims with your insurance company, reviewing services provided to you to determine medical necessity, or undertaking utilization review activities. If it becomes necessary to use collection processes due to lack of payment for services, I will only disclose the minimum amount of protected health information necessary for purposes of collection.

For Health Care Operations: I may use or disclose, as needed, your protected health information in order to support my business activities including, but not limited to, quality assessment activities, employee review activities, licensing, and conducting or arranging for other business activities. For example, I may share your protected health information with third parties that perform various business activities (e.g., billing or typing services). This is allowed only if I have a written contract which requires that business to safeguard the privacy of your protected health information.

If Required by Law: There are occasions which require me under law to disclose your protected health information with or without your authorization. Some examples are:

- If you are in imminent danger of committing suicide I am legally and ethically bound to intervene in anyway necessary to prevent that including contacting family members and the police.
- To the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services for the purpose of investigating or determining my compliance with the Federal privacy requirements.
- If you are at risk of being a serious and imminent threat to the health or safety of a person or the public, I will disclose information to prevent or less that serious threat. I will disclose it to a person or persons reasonably able to prevent or lessen the threat, including the target of the threat.
- If there is suspicious of neglect or abuse of a child in the past, present, or future, I am required by law to make a report to the Utah Division of Child and Family Services or to the police.
- If I have reason to believe that a vulnerable adult is suffering from abuse, neglect, abandonment, or exploitation, I am required by law to make a report to either the Utah Adult Protective Services or the nearest law enforcement agency as soon as I become aware of the situation.
- Utah law requires that I report the names of any individuals having communicable diseases to the Health Department.

- I may disclose your personal health information in accordance with workers compensation laws.
- If you become involved in the court system, a judge can order that I provide information about you. Two examples of this are child custody cases and cases in which clients bring action against therapists.

With Your Verbal Permission: I can share some information about you with your family or close others. I will only share information with those involved in your case and anyone else you choose such as close friends or clergy. I will ask you about who you want me to tell what information about your condition or treatment. You can tell me what you want and I will honor your wishes as long as it is not against the law.

If it is an emergency – and I cannot ask if you disagree – I can share information if I believe that it is what you would have wanted and if I believe it will help you if I do share it. If I do share information, in an emergency, I will tell you as soon as I can. If you don't approve, I will stop, as long as it is not against the law.

With Your Written Authorization: Uses and disclosures not specifically permitted by the circumstances described above will be made only with your written authorization, which may be revoked.
